
0

illing e pe ie ai ma i

At the start of the LEDA Traitbase project the data standards and operational guidelines were developed. These include precise specification of the trait attributes for plants, a specification of a format for bibliographical references, and a protocol for additional measurements. A division

